

EXPERTS IN NOISE AND VIBRATION
MANAGEMENT & ASSESSMENT

CONSULTANT AND PRINCIPAL CONSULTANT WARRINGTON / LONDON

Noise Consultants Ltd provides independent expert advice and assessments covering all aspects of environmental noise and vibration. We work in areas such as aviation, planning and development, and in policy and government support. We also provide leading expertise in noise and vibration modelling and measurement. We pride ourselves on delivering robust and innovative work to our clients and customers in both the private and public sectors.

To support an expanding workload the Company is seeking to recruit a Consultant and Principal to work in our Warrington / London offices.

This is an exciting opportunity to make a significant contribution to a growing team, and to contribute to a wide range of projects and to develop your career.

All candidates should ideally have a degree qualification or higher in an acoustic-based discipline. A high level of computer literacy is required, together with the ability to work with datasets. Candidates will need to show good communication skills, both orally and in writing, as well as a high technical capability and the ability to review and interpret data. You should have a membership with the IoA. A driving license is preferable.

At Consultant level you should have at least one year of experience, in environmental acoustics. At Principal level, you should have a minimum of 8 years experience and be competent in the commercial and project management aspects of consultancy.

Noise Consultants Limited provides a competitive benefits package including a company pension scheme.

Applications should be made in writing, including a current CV, and sent by email to jobs@noiseconsultants.co.uk.
